ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Industrial Economics would like to acknowledge several individuals and organizations who contributed to the production of this report. Three Technical Advisors provided excellent comment and insight: Dr. David Brookshire, Professor of Economics, University of New Mexico; Dr. Robert Wilkinson, Lecturer in the Environmental Studies Program, University of California, Santa Barbara; and Dr. Delworth Gardner, Professor of Economics at Brigham Young University and Professor Emeritus of Agricultural Economics, University of California, Davis. In addition, Economic and Planning Systems, Inc., conducted the analysis of development and transportation impacts in California.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY	ES-1
1 FRAMEWORK FOR ANALYSIS	1-1
1.1 Approach to Estimating Economic Effects	1-2
1.2 Scope of the Analysis	1-5
1.3 Analytic Time Frame	1-8
1.4 Information Sources.....	1-8
1.5 Structure of Report.....	1-9
2 BACKGROUND AND SOCIOECONOMIC OVERVIEW	2-1
2.1 Background of Flycatcher Critical Habitat Designation.....	2-1
2.2 Proposed Critical Habitat Designation	2-2
2.3 Description of Species and Habitat.....	2-4
2.4 Socioeconomic Profile of the Critical Habitat Area	2-5
3 ADMINISTRATIVE COSTS	3-1
3.1 Categories of Administrative Costs	3-1
3.2 Estimated Costs of Consultations and Technical Assistance.....	3-2
3.3 Summary of Past Administrative Costs	3-3
3.4 Summary of Future Administrative Costs	3-4
3.5 Caveats.....	3-4
4 POTENTIAL ECONOMIC IMPACTS TO WATER MANAGEMENT ACTIVITIES	4-1
4.1 Summary of Water Management Analysis and Results	4-1
4.2 Overview of Methodology.....	4-6
4.3 Background Data	4-12
4.4 Coastal California Recovery Unit.....	4-14
4.5 Basin and Mohave Recovery Unit.....	4-24
4.6 Lower Colorado Recovery Unit.....	4-31
4.7 Gila Recovery Unit	4-44
4.8 Rio Grande Recovery Unit	4-60

5	POTENTIAL ECONOMIC IMPACTS TO LIVESTOCK GRAZING ACTIVITIES	5-1
5.1	Background	5-1
5.2	Overview of Impacts on Federal Grazing Activities	5-2
5.3	Impacts on Non-federal Grazing Activities	5-13
5.4	Past and Future Impacts of Flycatcher Conservation on Federal and Non-federal Grazing Activities	5-15
5.5	Caveats to Economic Analysis of Impacts on Livestock Grazing Activities	5-35
6	POTENTIAL ECONOMIC IMPACTS TO RESIDENTIAL AND RELATED DEVELOPMENT	6-1
6.1	Summary of Economic Impacts	6-1
6.2	Background on Residential Development in the Proposed CHD	6-2
6.3	Analytical Approach	6-3
6.4	Estimated Future Development within Proposed CHD	6-5
6.5	Flycatcher Conservation Activities	6-9
6.6	Economic Impact of Lost Land Development Opportunities	6-12
6.7	Other Project Modification Costs	6-16
6.8	Other Future Impacts on Real Estate Development	6-18
6.9	Total Economic Impacts to Development Projects by Proposed CHD Unit	6-24
6.10	Land Development Assumptions and Caveats	6-27
7	POTENTIAL ECONOMIC IMPACTS TO TRIBAL ACTIVITIES	7-1
7.1	Summary of Impacts on Tribal Activities	7-2
7.2	Limitations and Caveats	7-7
7.3	Background and Socioeconomic Status of Potentially Affected Tribes	7-7
7.4	Coastal California Recovery Unit	7-10
7.5	Lower Colorado Recovery Unit	7-13
7.6	Gila Recovery Unit	7-19
7.7	Rio Grande Recovery Unit	7-24
8	POTENTIAL ECONOMIC IMPACTS TO TRANSPORTATION ACTIVITIES ..	8-1
8.1	Estimated Past Impacts	8-1
8.2	Potential Future Impacts	8-5

9	POTENTIAL ECONOMIC IMPACTS TO OTHER ACTIVITIES	9-1
9.1	Impacts to Recreation Activities	9-1
9.2	Fire Management	9-10
9.3	Exotic Species Management and Removal	9-14
9.4	Impacts to Other Federal Land Management Activities	9-15
9.5	Impacts to Military Activities	9-17
9.6	Summary of Impacts to Other Activities	9-18
9.7	Caveats to Economic Analysis of Impacts on the Other Activities	9-21
